About the Sainsbury Wellcome Centre

The Sainsbury Wellcome Centre (SWC) brings together world-leading scientists to investigate how brain circuits process information to generate perception, form memories and guide behaviour. Developed through the vision and partnership of the Gatsby Charitable Foundation and Wellcome, and with substantial investment from these partners, the mission of the SWC is to generate experimentally testable theories of brain function.

The Centre will comprise around 14 highly interdisciplinary experimental research groups accommodated in a new, purpose-designed building, offering an outstanding and unparalleled research environment. SWC scientists use a broad spectrum of the latest advances in molecular and cellular biology, imaging, electrophysiology and behavioural techniques and enjoy state-of-the-art research laboratories, cutting-edge scientific equipment, technologically-advanced prototyping and fabrication laboratories and custom in-house high-performance computing facilities. The full complement of scientists in the Centre is expected to reach around 150 together with circa 50 dedicated support staff.

Further details about the Sainsbury Wellcome Centre can be found at www.sainsburywellcome.org.

The Sainsbury Wellcome Centre is part of the UCL School of Life and Medical Sciences (SLMS). SLMS brings together four UCL Faculties to create one of the largest and most prestigious aggregations of academics in biomedical, life and population health sciences worldwide. The School has a global reputation for teaching, informed by cutting-edge research. A full profile of the School can be found at: http://www.ucl.ac.uk/slms/about-us. The School is structured into four Faculties: Brain Sciences; Life Sciences; Medical Sciences; and Population Health Sciences. SWC is most closely linked with the Faculties of Brain Science and Life Sciences.

The Role of the PhD Programme Coordinator

The Coordinator of the PhD Programme in Neuroscience provides comprehensive and effective administration for the Gatsby Unit and SWC graduate research programmes from admission to completion. The PhD Programme Coordinator will need to be fully conversant with all Centre, Faculty and UCL Doctoral School policy and procedures and assist the Graduate Tutors in implementing them. They are the first point of call for students with queries relating to administration and programme structure, and provide pastoral care for students, directing them to appropriate sources of central support. The post holder will need to proactively develop effective working relationships with academic and administrative staff within the Centre and other allied institutions, and with contacts in UCL Central Services – e.g. Admissions Office, Student Records, Fees Office, Research Finance, Student Funding Office – so strong communication and interpersonal skills will be essential.

However the post holder will be expected to manage their own workload using his/her own initiative, judgment and decision making skills when prioritising work.

This post is funded until 31 July 2021 in the first instance; the Centre is externally funded with funding awarded in five-year tranches subject to periodic funder review. Subject to successful grant renewal, it is anticipated that staff posts will be extended in line with successive funding periods.
